

MOVE OUT

DEACON BLUES

A zine about moving out after being stuck home.

6'2

JOHN EGBERT!

→ First year student at The University of Washington

→ Skipped eighth grade, so he's only 17

→ Majoring in Computer Science, despite his apparent lack of skill

→ Starting to inherit some of his dad's characteristics; he's grown tall. Gungly! Gawkly! Skinny!

• Hoping to live the ideal college life with hyinx, antics, and romance.

Likes: - Movies

- Trivid
(about movies)

- His friends

- Programming

- Novelty prank supplies

Wears: - Baggy clothes

- Thick gildan maelty tees

- Aging runners

- Hoodies & raincoats

Album he wants you to listen to: Damn Skippy - Lemon Demon

Preferred ways to waste dislikes: - loud music during quiet hours

- tobacco smoke

- Disingenuous arguments

- Programming time on the computer:

- IRC chatting

- Select image forums

And Now: His SWINGIN' PAD!

John lives in Hansel Hall, the oldest dorm on campus, in about the smallest, most dismal room you ever saw.

He doesn't seem to mind.

Despite his vast collection of nick-nacks, he manages to keep his room from being a pig sty.

Q: Why did you choose UW?

it was the big college in the big city! what other choice even was there?

ROSE LALONDE

5'6"

- First year student (also UW)
- Majoring in English, with a focus in creative writing
- Trying, very desperately, to get into UW's elite creative writing program.
- Insists on getting by on her own steam, mostly succeeding!

Book she'd recommend you read:

Jane Eyre

Likes: - Analyzing reality - Her friends
- TV stars - Coop video games
- knitwear - Candles

Dislikes: - Fanfic (allegedly!) - Assumptions
- Run on sentences - Clean bedrooms
- Memorizing names

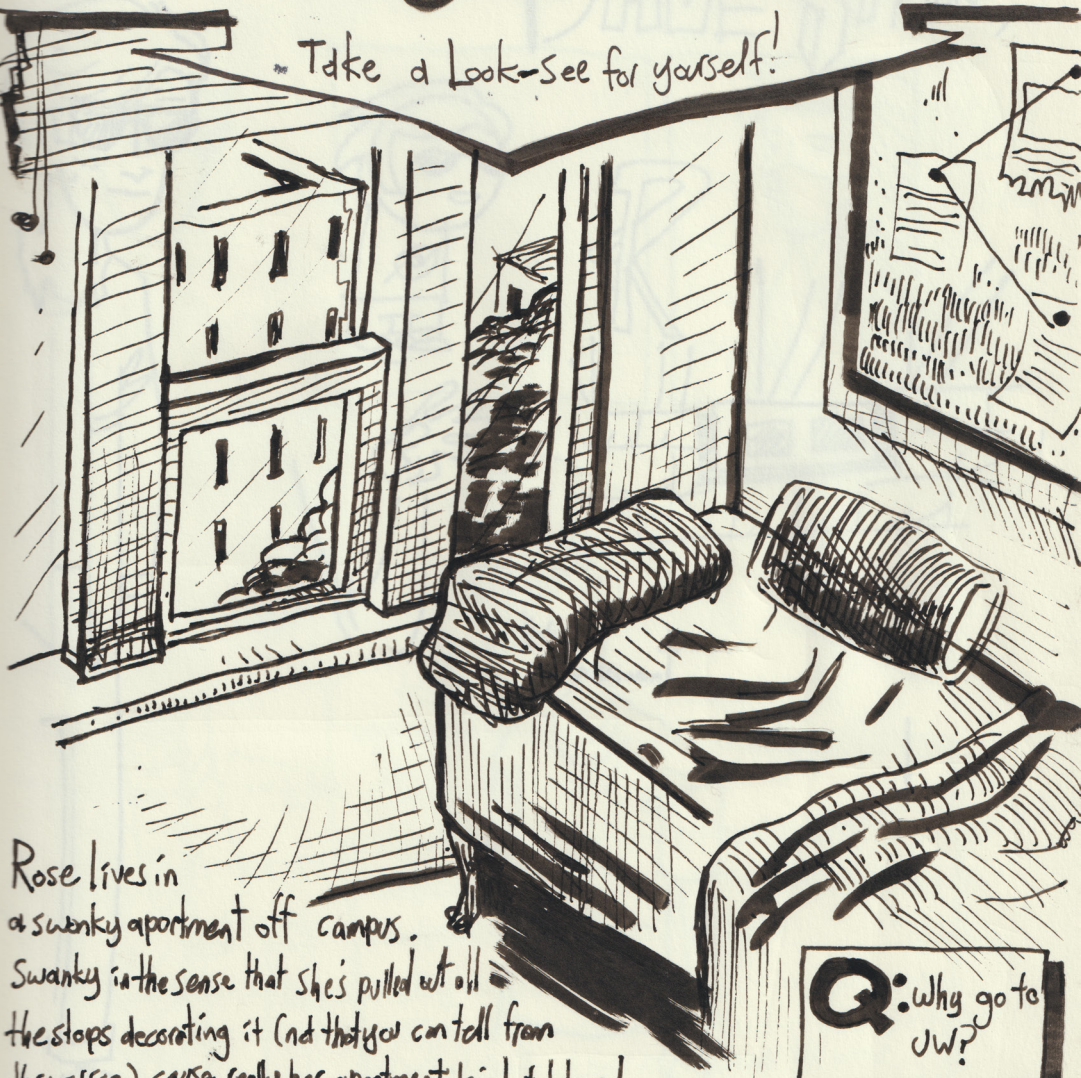

Wears: - Thick sweaters
- Lace-up skater shoes
- Patterned pants and/or skirts
- Really floppy Cardigans

Preferred way to waste time on the computer: Reading and writing YA fanfic.

AND HER SWANK ABOVE

Take a look-see for yourself!

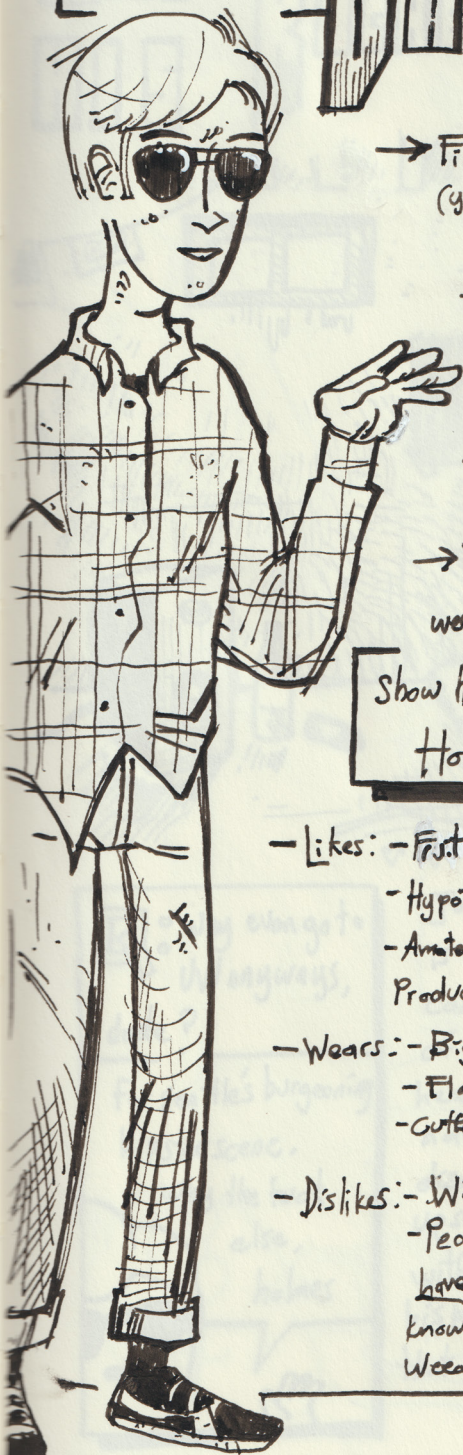

Rose lives in a swanky apartment off campus. Swanky in the sense that she's pulled out all the stops decorating it (not that you can tell from this slice), cause really her apartment kind of blows! Her mother, who picked it out (and insists on paying the rent) says that it has character. It might be clean when you come to visit, but during her off hours, Rose keeps it nice and messy!

Q: Why go to UW?

To escape from the clutches of the witch who raised me.

DAVE STRIDER

→ First year
(you'll never guess what school)
(it's UW again)

→ Majoring in Cinema & Media studies

→ He's just as awful as any other student filmmaker, even if that's on purpose

→ Still raps, much to the dismay of those who know him

→ Trying to start a rap-rock band with Jade. One of many week-long creative ventures.

Show he really thinks you should check out, yo:
Home Movies

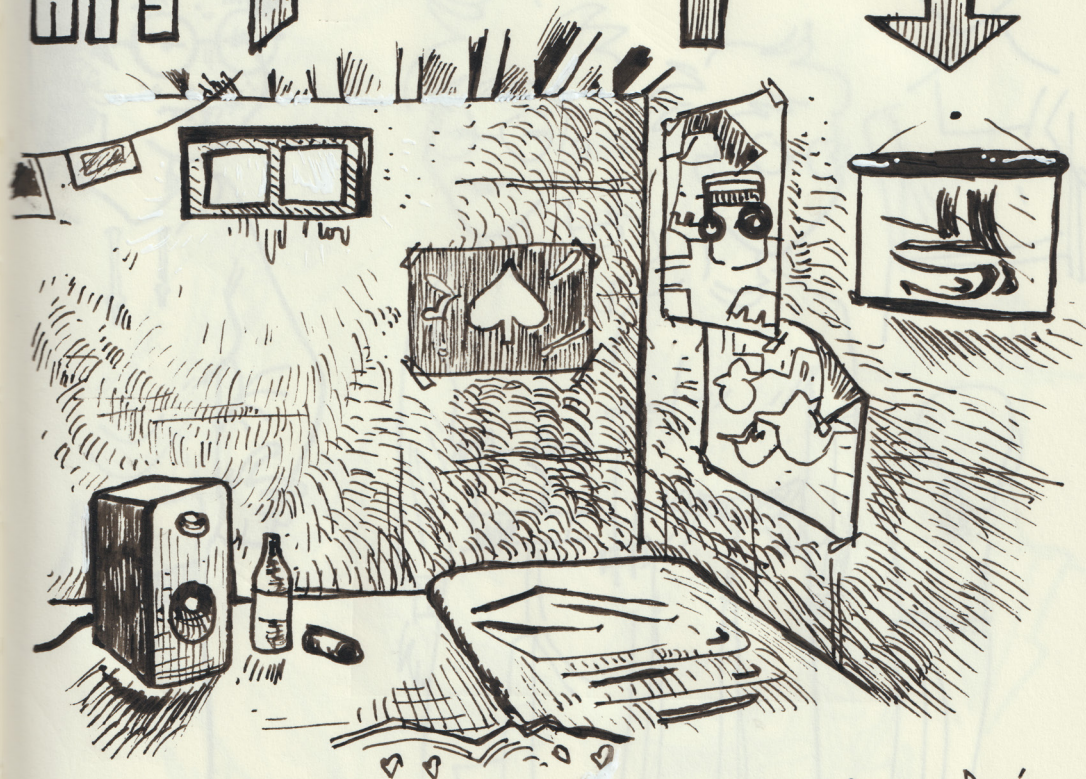

- Likes: - Fruit juices - His friends
- Hypotheticals - Musicians you have heard of
- Amateur music - The shittiest convenience Production Store pastries

- Wears: - Big old windbreakers
- Flannels - Sneakers
- Cuffed pants (vars or converse w/ the laces taken out)

- Dislikes: - Wide shoes - Neat freaks
- People who just have to let you know they smoke weed.
- Movies that are 'just okay'

Preferred ways to waste time at the computer:
Downloading, Producing, and sharing a variety of musics.

AND HIS BACHELOR'S PAD

Q: Why even go to UW anyways, dude?

For Seattle's burgeoning hipster scene.

Why the fuck else, Holmes

John's room is small and dismal. Somehow, Dave's is smaller and dimmer. Messy, too. Littered with cans, wrappers, and dirty laundry, it reminds him of home. It is, however, much colder since there's no heating. This lived-in basement suite was originally advertised as rentable storage space, deemed too dismal for anyone to live in. Dave has to share an upstairs bathroom with his landlord. Dave is happy with his living arrangements, save for the fact that his place has one of those exposed, dangling light bulbs that he lives constantly in fear of smashing.

JADE HARLEY! — 5'2

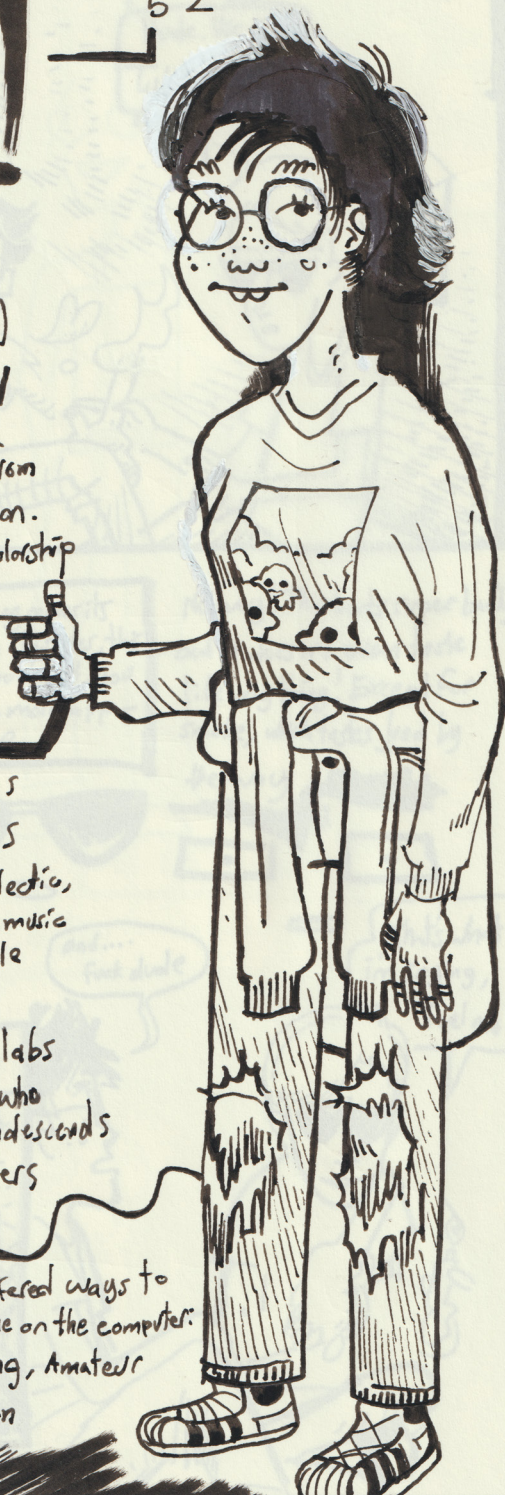

- Aiming for a B.S. in Physics
(no, that doesn't stand for bullshit)
- Also a first year student at UW
- Pretty much had the world to pick from in terms of post secondary education.
UW offered a very generous scholarship

Physics paper she wants you to read:

sur les radiations émises par Phosphorescence

- Likes:
 - Old
 - Sunny days
 - Squiggles
 - Her friends
 - fan content
 - The most eclectic, unlistenable music imaginable
 - Jogging
- Dislikes:
 - Internet trolls
 - Heat
 - Parties where the only thing to do is get drunk in some parking lot
 - Boring labs
 - Anyone who condescends
 - Whiners
- Wears:
 - A variety of athletic wears
 - Chunky adidas
 - faded thrift store
tees
 - Novelty socks

Preferred ways to waste time on the computer:
irc chatting, Amateur music production and now, her

CHARMING NEST!

Jade lives in Elm Hall with two of the nicest roommates a girl could ask for! You don't know their names, and you will never meet either of them.

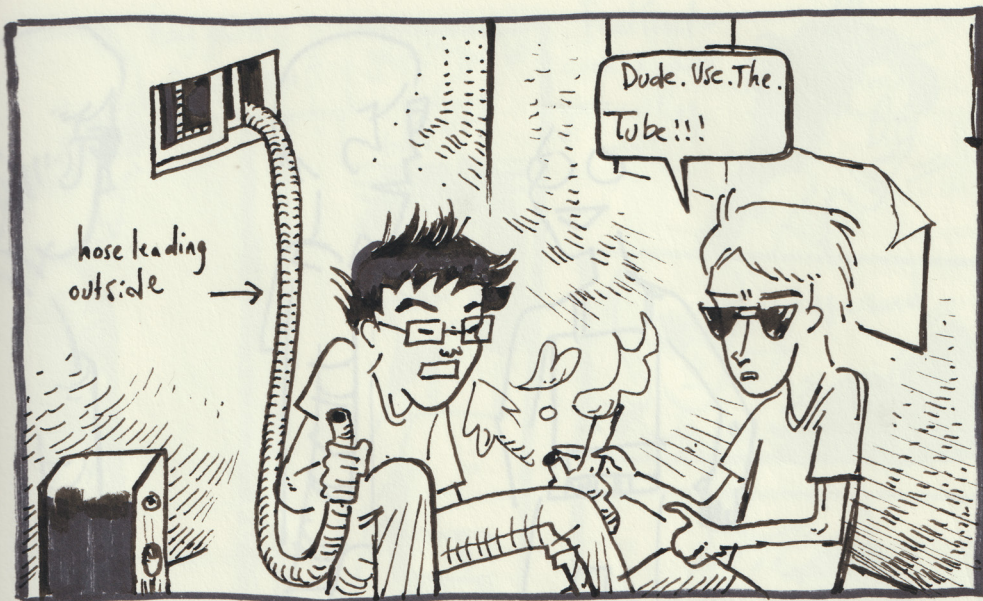

Elm Hall is one of the newer dorms on campus, so Jade probably has the nicest room in her group. She keeps it spotless, save for her bed which is usually piled with blankets and stuffies.

Q

Why go to UW, lass?

because i was offered a full ride scholarship, silly! :D

The coughing means it's working. besides, this is the good shit, you should be more appreciative

No way! This hurts super badly and it doesn't even taste like anything! Except for smoke, which tastes bad by the way and....

fuck dude

hey Harls.
Ready to jam?

yeah!!! Just let me grab my bass!!!

Feel free to come in while you're waiting

Hey Jade what the fuck even is that thing?

Oh!
That silly guy?
One of my grandpa's trophy's. He insist ed I take him

Isn't he great? :)

Sure.

DEACON! BLUES!

Formerly a kid, also formerly stuck at home. His moving out experiences are hardly as interesting as those portrayed in this zine.

Apologies to Jada Horne, who I accidentally left off the cover.

Confused as to how to read this zine? Have no fear! In Japan, books are read right to left. Since I am not Japanese and don't live in Japan, the zine is read left to right!
Hope this helps!

-DEAR

